

Research 4 different elements from the periodic table.

- What are their properties?
- What things or elements do they react with?
- How are they used in daily life?
- What elements are some of the different compounds it can make with other elements?
- Who discovered the element?